

Dear Students and Parents,

The faculty and staff of EJHS remain committed to providing our students with a safe learning environment that provides daily opportunities designed to challenge and inspire young minds. We hold high expectations of all students while respecting individual learning styles and abilities. We encourage our students to have a “growth mindset” by not being fearful of mistakes, yet valuing mistakes as ideal learning opportunities. We willingly work with all stakeholders to provide students with an education that builds their ability to engage in life skills such as collaboration, problem solving, and taking ownership of their learning. We strive to foster academic and social growth by building student confidence, encouraging positive choices, and supporting positive relationships with parents, students, and the community. The success of our school belongs to each of us. Therefore, we look forward to maintaining positive relationships and communication between school and home. Parental encouragement and involvement in a child’s education is invaluable. We want your child’s time with us to be rewarding, and we want our parents to be a part of these critical years.

We welcome you to share the “Bobcat Pride” as a part of the EJHS family!
