Paying for college can be tough for anyone. Tuition, room and board, parking, books, lab fees and other expenses put constant pressure on families and set up students for years of lingering loans. According to the U.S. Department of Education, undergraduate students at four-year institutions paid an average of $13,927 per year for tuition and fees in 2012.

This guidebook's purpose is to; 1) discuss, in detail, minority scholarships, grants and other financial aid available to African-American, Hispanic, Asian American, Native American, LGBT and female students. 2) To help minority students look for and land scholarships through resources and expert advice.
