OCEAN SAFETY

It's hard to resist a day on the beach, but you'll need to know some safety rules for swimming in the ocean. Swimming in the ocean is trickier than the pool because of waves and currents, which can change. When you first get to the beach, check with the lifeguard to find out how strong the waves are. Some places fly flags or write notes on a chalkboard to give swimmers an idea of what conditions are like.

Never swim alone. Always swim where a lifeguard can see you and in areas that are marked for swimmers to use.

Use a floatation device.

Obeys the posted signs.

IF IN DOUBT, DON'T GO OUT!

Assistance League Hawaii Supports our Students

How does a tee shirt or new school clothing bring a school together and create student pride? It happens at this school that's to the generosity of Assistance League Hawaii. Earlier this year, many students received clothing from our Operation School Bell program. Students with new school clothing often feel better about themselves, and this helps them with confidence, positive behaviors and getting involved with peers and school activities.
