Agencies Controlling Employment of Minors

State child labor laws and the child labor provisions of the federal Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) govern most California employers.

If federal laws, state laws and school district policies conflict, the more restrictive law (that which is most protective of the employee) prevails.

Summary of Minors' Work Regulations

Generally, minors must attend school until age 18 unless they are 16 years or older and have graduated from high school or received a state Certificate of Proficiency.

Minors under the age of 18 may not work in occupations declared hazardous for young workers as listed below.

For more information about hazardous occupations, contact the U.S. Department of Labor (child Labor Bulletins 101 and 102) and the California Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Standards Enforcement. Regional offices are located in several California cities. They are listed in the "Government Listings" sections of telephone directories.

Labor laws set the basic minimum age of 16 years for general employment. Persons younger than 16 years are allowed to work only in limited specified occupations, which exclude baking, manufacturing, processing, construction, warehouse, and transportation occupations.

Labor laws applicable to adult employees are also generally applicable to minor employees, including workers' compensation insurance requirements.

Child labor laws do not generally apply to minors who deliver newspapers or work at odd jobs, such as yard work and baby-sitting, or in private homes where the minor is not regularly employed.

Employers of minors required to attend school must complete a "Statement of Intent to Employ Minor and Request for Work Permit" (form BI-1) for the school district of attendance for each such minor. Employers must themselves have on file for each such minor a "Permit to Employ and Work" (form BI-4). Work permits (BI-4) must be open at all times for inspection by sanctioned authorities.

A work permit (BI-4) must be revoked whenever the issuing authority determines the employment is illegal or is impairing the health or education of the minor.
