

Pillar – INTEGRITY

The honesty, truthfulness or accuracy of one's actions; uprightness

Consistency of values, principles, expectations and outcomes

Having strong moral principles

I wish I could tell you differently... but the truth will always be the truth!

A Champion knows that integrity is not just used in relation to the people in their life...but it is in themselves and everything they do.

A Champion has fundamental values that are used for reasoning and truth.

A Champion expects to overcome obstacles and to be successful.

A Champion's principles serve as his/hers foundation of belief or behavior.

A Champion is honest and truthful with themselves and with others.

A Champion is upright and does not cheat, steal or deceive.

A Champion has morals and the courage to do the right thing.

A Champion is loyal to family, friends and country.

A Champion has consistency and accuracy of thought, word, and action.

A Champion understands that the relationship is established when you show yourself to be "trustworthy." It is not predicated on others "trusting" you...

Habit 1 – Be Proactive

I am a responsible person. I choose my actions, attitudes and moods. I do the right thing, even when no one is looking.

Pillar – STABILITY

The quality of being steadfast and/or firm; consistency of purpose; reliable and dependable; having strength or security; resistance to deterioration or displacement

Success is rarely achieved by luck or chance. It takes hours, months, and often years of tireless effort before the proper formula is found – not for short-term gain, but for long-term exceptionalism!

A Champion is dependable and knows it is an HONOR to have that responsibility.

A Champion never says “that’s not my job” - They do things willingly

A Champion is consistent in their thoughts, words, and actions.

A Champion is strong enough to take root in where they have been planted.

A Champion is steadfast in belief, determination, and adherence.

A Champion purposely does what they say they will do and makes wise choices.

A Champion is resilient, able to withstand or recover quickly from difficult situations.

A Champion doesn’t desire “instant gratification” rather he/she is patient and waits for the payback for their hard work and effort.

A Champion is reliable in the things they do, dependable in achievement, accurate and honest.

A Champion has the strength and inner security to stand and endure.

Habit 2 – Begin with the end in mind

I have a plan and set goals.

I contribute to my class and my school.

I do things that make a difference.

Pillar – PROSPERITY

*A state of well-being; to thrive or to be healthy;
Encompassing happiness and favorable conditions;
The result of being a good financial manager*

It's the challenge, the climb, the pursuit that they live and work for. Through earned accomplishments, they obtain success!

A Champion accomplishes a state of well-being through a healthy lifestyle.

A Champion cannot attain champion level if their actions do not match their thoughts and words.

A Champion has no apologies, excuses, or regrets for what was, what is, and what will be.

A Champion saves and doesn't spend more than he/she earns.

A Champion is the owner of the by-products of his/her efforts. If you want accomplishments, then you must put in the work necessary for it.

A Champion thrives vigorously by growing and developing the whole person; mind, body, and spirit.

A Champion need never apologize for wanting to be more tomorrow than they are today.

A Champion knows that the path to excellence is not built on "I could have done this" or "I should have done that."

A Champion understands that the favorable conditions they obtained are the gifts of perspective, intelligence, and resolve.

A Champion knows that the condition of flourishing, thriving, or of good fortune is more than just a favorable financial state.

Habit 3 – Put first things first

I spend most of my time on things that are important. I set priorities in order to be successful and I follow my plans.

Pillar – VICTORY

To overcome and win; achievement of conquest; to triumph;

Overall success against opposition or difficulties;

Significant or spectacular accomplishment; a deeply held belief that no matter what happens, I am an overcomer

You cannot scale the heights of achievement if you are not open to the feedback that comes with an honest assessment of YOU!

A Champion will not be derailed from overcoming opposition to the vision.

A Champion achieves mastery or success in all struggles or endeavors against opposing odds.

A Champion is motivated by the conquest while continually moving toward the goal.

A Champion's methods are significant and sometimes spectacular.

A Champion views the difficulties and attacks them with triumph in mind.

A Champion views overall success as doable – always.

A Champion believes that a successive position can be achieved against anything.

A Champion receives more from the journey than the victory.

A Champion sees the glass as half-full AND half-empty because in that view exists an opportunity to bring the water level back up to the top. And in doing so, the champion once again creates the reality of “success.”

Habit 4 – Think Win-Win

Everyone can win! I balance courage for getting what I want with consideration for others. I think positively about myself and future; and about the future of others.

Pillar – HUMILITY

The modest views of one's own importance; lack of false pride; the quality of being respectful; possessing a willingness to listen and learn; the state of being meek in spirit, yet strong in values; strong on the inside, but ready to listen to others

Having a clear perspective of one's posture in respect to one's place or context helps one!

A Champion is a humble individual and fully understands that...success is a team effort and is never earned alone.

A Champion is willing to receive and benefit from “functional feedback.”

A Champion diminishes his/her own importance and is always considerate of others.

A Champion knows that a modest view offers us perspective and appreciation that not everyone finds.

A Champion is a respectful winner and a gracious loser.

A Champion is meek and always responds simply and properly to what he/she faces.

A Champion understands that false pride never leads to lasting achievement or satisfactory accomplishment.

A Champion knows that it is essential to listen, even if it's not what they want to hear.

A Champion is fully aware of and always remembers that victory is a by-product of one's effort...

Habit 5 – Seek first to understand, then to be understood
I listen to other people's ideas and feelings. I try to see things from their points of view.

Pillar – COMMUNITY

Practicing shared values and interest; of group

An alliance linked by a common goal or purpose; ability to lead others in order to accomplish together, what cannot be accomplished alone

People empowered with knowledge and the skills needed to effect change

It is crucial to your long-term goals, that you remember those with whom you struggled and battled to find success and achievement!

A Champion revels in the opportunity for all members of the group or team to experience success.

A Champion empowers others to achieve and succeed.

A Champion embraces shared values.

A Champion realizes that an alliance can be profound, deep, and can serve to move them ever closer to victory.

A Champion will always deny self for common or shared interest.

A Champion sees the bigger picture and selflessly does their part to make the school and their community better for EVERYONE.

A Champion is a good citizen and helps people in need.

The Champion knows that they are but one part of a team's greatness.

*A Champion moves with the team, grows with the team, and wins with the team.
We, the team, stand as one.*

Habit 6 – Synergize

I value other people's strengths and learn from them. I get along with others and work well in groups. I care about my team and find solutions together, to make my community a better place.¹

Pillar - AUTHORITY

An accepted role of influence; administrative; a person or group of people possessing the expressed role of leadership; the right to make decisions, act or delegate; leadership that is willing to serve, in order to support the team

The jurisdiction of authority, the location of sovereignty, the balancing of freedom and authority, and the requirements and obligations of one's self will always remain core questions!

A Champion knows and follows the rules, is self-disciplined and accountable to the leadership.

A Champion is willing to stand up and accept their share of responsibility in the outcomes they influence.

A Champion appreciates the need to train and prepare him/herself as an integral part of the group.

A Champion is dedicated to expanding their intellectual skills and their circle of influence.

A Champion knows that one cannot be an authority simply by improving and mastering administrative skills.

A Champion is fully committed to a sense of "Personal Accountability."

A Champion's losses, failures, shortcomings and mistakes are all part of the process of the road of excellence and ultimately authority.

A Champion must make decisions that are in the best interest of the group...not one's self.

Habit 7 – Sharpen the Saw

I learn in lots of ways and I find meaningful ways to help others and to help to improve myself in body, mind and spirit.
