

December 16, 2016

Dear Alliance Parents,

I write to wish you a joyous winter holiday with your family and friends. As we look forward to 2017, I also want to reiterate Alliance's commitment to your children and to your family as members of our broader Alliance family of schools.

I know that for many of you, the coming year is causing fear and uncertainty due to the recent Presidential election. Many of you have asked what Alliance will do to support our students and families in the face of this new reality. In this regard, I want to reiterate Alliance's historic commitment to providing a high-quality education to every student who walks into our schools, regardless of immigration status. We pride ourselves on operating schools that offer safe learning environments where every student and family is welcome and respected.

We have not and will not ask for your family's immigration status, nor will we share your personal information with others. If you are asked to share your personal information or sign any petitions, please use caution and be sure you know to whom you are speaking and for what purposes your personal information will be used.

In the months ahead, we will provide all of our students, families and staff with access to information, resources and support services related to immigration and Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA). If you have suggestions or have resources to share with others, please talk to your principal or parent engagement specialist.

As we head into the holiday season, I hope you will join me in reflecting on those things in your life that are beautiful and amazing. Pause to savor your children, your family and friends, and those special moments from this past year that you cherish and that bring you joy.

All of us at Alliance look forward to seeing you in the New Year.

Sincerely,
