

Barrister Code of Conduct

John Marshall High School students have traditionally maintained high standards of performance by accepting the fact that achievement is based on self-discipline and responsibility.

John Marshall High School students are responsible for:

- Carrying their school ID cards.
- Arriving at each class on time; being seated and ready to work before the tardy bell rings.
- Bringing required materials to class.
- Visiting lockers, using restrooms, and taking care of personal business, before school, during passing periods, or at nutrition or lunch.
- Bringing a note and clearing absences before school, during nutrition or lunch so that uncleared absences don't become trancies and meet the 96% attendance goal.
- Completing required class work and assignments on time.
- Disposing of food, drinks and trash in garbage bins.
- Respecting others and treating them with courtesy.
- Being a positive and cooperative member of the Marshall community.
- Respecting and protecting school property.
- Leaving class only with an authorized pass. Hall passes will be issued after the first ten minutes of the period except for emergencies.
- Securing skateboards in the lockers during school hours.
- Silencing electronic devices and removing them from sight during class time.
- Expressing affection properly in public.
- Wearing modest, appropriate attire free of offensive or gang related content. "Offensive" includes sexual innuendos, alcohol drugs, violence, profanity or gestures.
