Re: Master Plan for English Learners

Enclosed you will see two English Learner plans. The first is our current EL Plan with all the revisions and changes indicated in bold or ~~strikethroughs~~. I have included this version so that you can see the changes being made to the plan.

I have also included a final draft with the changes completed. This is what the New Master Plan for English Learners will look once it is adopted.

Most of the changes are editing modifications in an attempt to make the plan more concise and organized. There are two content changes that we are recommending and we will discuss these at the board meeting

- 1) A change to the redesignation criteria
- 2) The addition of Individualized English Learner Plans (IELP)

As always, please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.
