

Laurel K. Isidore is an assistant principal at Bronxwood Community School 112. there she supervises pre-kindergarten through 2nd grade, and as well as the entire special education department, pre-kindergarten through fifth. Ms. Isidore attended the State University at Buffalo and completed a BA in Early Childhood Education and Sociology. She later attended the College of New Rochelle, where she earned a dual Master's degree in Early Childhood Education and Special Education; she went back to the College of New Rochelle to earn another dual Masters in School Building Leadership and School District Leadership. Laurel's teaching career started in the private sector, where she spent 6 years working in lower Manhattan as a prekindergarten teacher. She then came to the New York City Department of Education, where she started as a kindergarten special education teacher and grade leader, later transitioning to instructional coach, pre-kindergarten site coordinator, and then assistant principal. Her favorite quote: "It is easier to build strong children than repair broken men." - Frederick Douglas