

ADDING A TEACHING OR CONTENT AREA TO MULTIPLE AND SINGLE SUBJECT CREDENTIALS

Terms and Definitions

Methodology in the Specific Content Area

A pedagogy (methods of teaching) course must be completed when an individual is adding a new credential type or single subject content area to an existing credential when seeking both the Multiple Subject and Single Subject Credential. The pedagogy course must align with the specific content area sought. A non-specific or generic secondary methods course is not acceptable.

Commission-approved program sponsors may grant equivalency for coursework completed at their institution for candidates seeking to meet the pedagogy requirement to avoid any potential redundancy in satisfying this requirement as long as the institution has the appropriate teacher preparation program for the credential type or content area sought. For verification of equivalency, educators must submit with their application and transcripts an original, signed letter on the institution's letterhead indicating that the coursework completed meets the subject specific pedagogy requirement. A letter from an institution of higher education must be signed by the director of teacher education.

Exceptions

Individuals holding a Single Subject Credential seeking to add a new subject that falls within the same broad content area would not need to complete additional pedagogy coursework. Applicants adding the following content areas need not complete additional pedagogy coursework to meet this requirement:

- 1) adding a Science content area to an existing Science credential (includes Foundational-Level General Science);
- 2) upgrading a Foundational-Level Mathematics credential to the full Mathematics content area; or

- 3) adding a World Language (WL)/LOTE (Language other than English) content area, other than English Language Development (ELD), to an existing WL/LOTE credential in any content area other than ELD

The following are examples of exception #3:

- 1) Holder of a Single Subject Credential in WL: ELD adding a new WL/LOTE area such as Spanish or French must complete a WL/LOTE pedagogy course. The course may be in any LOTE area other than ELD due to the specialized preparation and pedagogy required for WL: ELD.
- 2) Holder of a Single Subject Credential in French seeks to add Mandarin—it is not necessary to complete a Mandarin pedagogy course. This educator has already met the WL/LOTE pedagogy requirement. See PSA 14-01 Subject Specific Pedagogy for additional information.
- 3) Holder of a Single Subject Credential in any content area except WL/LOTE seeking to add a WL/LOTE content area must take a WL/LOTE pedagogy course. However, the course can be completed at an institution that is approved to offer any WL/LOTE single subject program even though the pedagogy course is not focused on a specific language. For example, a Single Subject Credential holder in Social Studies seeking to add Mandarin as a new single subject content area may complete a WL/LOTE pedagogy course at an institution approved to offer any WL/LOTE single subject program and the course need not be focused on Mandarin.

While Commission-approved program sponsors may grant equivalency by verifying that coursework completed at their institution fulfills the pedagogy requirement, regulations do not allow program sponsors to grant equivalency for anything other than coursework, including teaching experience. The completion of a minimum of three semester units or four quarter units of pedagogy coursework directly related to the credential type or content area sought must be completed in all cases and verified with the submission of official transcripts.

Letter of Clarification

At times the course title shown on a transcript or the course description of a pedagogy course may not clearly identify that the course content meets the subject specific pedagogy requirement. In such a case, the applicant may ask the university to provide a letter of clarification (not equivalency) on the university letterhead signed by a person authorized from the credentials office verifying that the course includes the subject specific content area pedagogy as set out in Title 5 section 80499. The original letter must be included with the application. Refer to PSA 14-01 for additional information.

Out-of-State Pedagogy Courses

Pedagogy courses from states outside of California may be accepted toward meeting this requirement only if these courses were completed at a regionally-accredited institution with a state-approved professional teacher preparation program. See Coded Correspondence 13-17 for more information.

Subject-Matter Competence

Subject-matter competence may be verified by one of three methods:

1. Achieve a passing score on the appropriate subject-matter examination(s). Examination information, including passing scores and registration, can be found in Verifying Subject-Matter Competence by Examination leaflets, CL-674S for Single Subject or CL-674M for Multiple Subject.
2. For the Single Subject Credential, complete a Commission-approved subject-matter program and obtain verification of completion from the authorized person in the education department of a California college or university with an approved subject matter program.

3. For specialized science subjects only, individuals may take and pass the appropriate subject matter examinations or obtain verification of completion of subject-matter course work from the Commission on Teacher Credentialing. Information, including requirements and procedures, can be found in Coded Correspondence 03-0010.*

* The last administration of the examinations in the Specialized Sciences will be July 11, 2015. These examinations will no longer be available after this date. Applicants will have five years during which to use passing examination scores toward obtaining California certification. The last date to verify subject-matter equivalency by coursework for any of the Specialized Sciences is July 11, 2015. See Coded Correspondence 14-09.

* Teachers holding National Board Certification in the area of “Science” will be issued a Single Subject Credential in the specific science content area based upon:

- 1) an out-of-state credential with a matching content area;
- 2) a copy of the individual’s NBPTS “My Profile” status page report which indicates the specific science certificate specialty area in which National Board certification was issued. A National Board score report will not meet this requirement; or
- 3) official (original) transcripts from a regionally-accredited college or university showing a bachelor’s or higher degree major or 32 semester units of coursework in the appropriate science content area.

The required documentation must be submitted with the photocopy of the individual’s National Board Certificate and all other supporting materials. Item 2 above is an option only for individuals who obtained National Board Certification in Adolescence and Young Adulthood in Science.

Teachers with out-of-state credentials issued in the general subject area “Science” who hold National Board Certification in “Science” will be issued a California Single Subject Teaching Credential in Foundational-Level General Science unless a specific subject pathway is identified.
