If you answer "No" to each question, at least one of your parents must complete the parent information questions and sign the form. You will be considered dependent even if another college or university determined previously that you were independent.

Include yourself, your parents and any other members of the household who receive more than half of their support from your parents.

Include yourself (regardless of how many units you plan to take), plus any other household members (excluding your parents) who will be enrolled in college at least half time in 2015-16.

Provide the best estimate of their total 2014 income that you have available. You can update it later.

You (and either parent, if you're a dependent student) may sign electronically using a State Student Aid PIN, or print, sign and mail the signature page. The Dream Act application includes the prompts for setting up these PINs when you choose to sign electronically.

WHAT YOU NEED TO SUBMIT FOR A CAL GRANT:

If you're a California resident or you graduated from a California high school, you may be eligible for a Cal Grant. To be considered, in addition to filling out the Dream Act application, make sure your school-certified GPA is submitted to the California Student Aid Commission by March 2, 2015.

WHAT'S NEXT?

Immediately after submitting your Dream Act application with your student signature (and parent signature for dependent students), you'll be able to review your application confirmation page. The confirmation page will explain any additional steps to take to finalize your Dream Act application. You also will be able to access and print your California Student Aid Report (look for the "Cal SAR" tab in your online Dream Act application). If any information is incorrect, or if you want to add to or change your school selections, make the changes on your Dream Act application.

If you are selected to receive a Cal Grant, you also will get a California Aid Report. You can check the status of your Cal Grant application at WebGrants for Students: (www.webgrants4students.org).

The UC campuses where you are admitted will email a financial aid notice to the email address you provide between February and May with a summary of the estimated costs of attendance and the financial aid options for which you are eligible.
