

Colby H. Macapagal - The Bread

The art piece depicts the consecration of the bread. As shown in the art piece, there is one character with one main color. The piece took one hour of committed work. It was created by rolling printing ink onto a foam board with the molded image. Like a stamp, the foam piece was imprinted onto a handpicked, fully grown birch tree, that was created with the utmost precision and care, when creating the paper. The final product is the piece shown.
