This is Ours

In our four years of high school, we have experienced the living of a true democracy for our school alone has been fun by the same, basic functions that the democracy of America is run. We have sensed our America within the limits of Inglewood High School.

It is this democratic spirit of our High School that we have tried to capture within these pages. This spirit of fellowship, leadership, friendship, and sportsmanship we have tried to convey throughout our book. It is this spirit that is our most valuable asset when we go out into the world on our own.

In the future when you explore your old annuals to aid you in recalling old, sweet memories and life at Inglewood High School may it also help to remind you of our American heritage and how it is exercised at Inglewood High School.
