Staff Spotlight

Jenn Hoffman New School Counselor

Dear California Prep Families,

As the newest Counselor for the A-3 team, I would like to take a few moments to introduce myself and share my philosophy on education. I have devoted my life to the service of educating youth from a very young age. I have worked as a tutor, teacher, counselor, and coach, beginning when I was only 14 years old. Education is the gateway to a bright personal future as well as the key to society's progress. I believe that every child has the innate ability to learn, and as educators it is our role and responsibility to inspire students, to develop each individual's gifts and talents, to challenge them to stretch their boundaries, and to support them as they work to overcome obstacles to their success. Each child is different and what motivates and works for one can be very different from what works with another. This is why I am excited to work for a program that allows a flexible learning environment to address the needs of all students. I am looking forward to working with you and your children toward achieving their post-secondary goals.

Aviva Ebner New Principal Uplift
2017/2018 School Year

Dr. Aviva Ebner is a UCLA graduate with degrees in Biology and Educational Administration, as well as a Ph.D. in Educational Leadership. She holds multiple credentials, including science, administration, and library services. She has been an educator for 30 years, including prior experience as a K-12 principal. She has also authored over a dozen books and is a regular presenter at regional and national education conferences. After working in online schools for the last 8 years, Dr. Ebner joined our system of schools this past June and is excited to continue working with our students and their families in virtual education.

Jonathan Newman New Principal Uplift
2017/2018 School Year

Jonathan Newman is looking forward to continuing his work with Uplift California, now as one of its two new principals for the 2017-2018 academic school year. Jonathan is a UCLA graduate with a degree in English; he had served as an English teacher, administrator, and grant writer in South Los Angeles prior to joining A3's California Prep. He is most excited to help Uplift's determined students realize their full potential by bringing his varied expertise to this growing family.

State Wide Testing- Our first round of testing is underway. It is important that your student attends. Make sure your student gets plenty of rest the day before. Eat a nutritional meal the day of the test. It is acceptable to bring drinking water, and pack a lunch to the testing site.

Don't forget to bring your laptop with the secure browser downloaded, and headphones.

Make- Up announcements will be sent out soon via email.

Last day of school is June 30th, make sure to login and finish classes before then.

Happy Learning!
