

Daily Practice Apps for the New SAT

Warning: Reading further will eliminate any excuse to not practice for the SAT

SAT UP - The world's most widely-used mobile application for SAT prep, featuring personalized daily workouts, midterm and full length practice tests, vocabulary games, on-demand tutoring and continuous coach support. Apple Store / Google Play

KHAN ACADEMY - Khan Academy's official partnership with the College Board for the redesigned SAT means that it has significantly expanded its resources for SAT prep. Whether you need to brush up on ratios, complex numbers, or coordinate geometry, a quick video lesson on the Khan app may be all you need to set you on the right path. Apple Store / Google Play

MATH BRAIN BOOSTER - The new SAT makes mental math an even more essential skill. Math Brain Booster improves your attention span, reaction time, and mental sharpness by challenging you to solve different arithmetical tasks within a time limit. It's fun, streamlined, and very effective for standardized test prep. Apple Store

DAILY PRACTICE FOR THE NEW SAT FROM THE COLLEGE BOARD - Since it's from the makers of the SAT, it features official questions. You can practice with the question of the day or access an archive of previous questions organized by difficulty level. Apple Store / Google Play